“Harnessing the public’s dislike of wasps to help scientists learn more about them!”

But wasps are really important as natural pest controllers.

They even pollinate!

What would a world without wasps look like?

Knee deep in aphids?

Riddled with caterpillars?

Scientists know surprisingly little about wasps..

You can help by trapping wasps in your garden:

1. Make a simple wasp trap.
2. Trap those stingy things.
3. Send us your wasps!

Your data will help scientists better understand wasps and their role in the environment.
